Monks House
Rodmell,

Back last night & found
your letter.

Yes, delighted.
Wednesday 27th lunch
1.15.

What a pity — what a mountain country
Sussex is! Why don't we all live for ever at Zennor

Dotty wires that Jo is not going to Penns for Friday but next week, & wants us to come then.
So will Jo say which day.
Such a row — has had to take to my bed with bad throat & temperature so anhow Friday I suppose couldn't have Jo. And no books. If Jo have any memoir & the book fit for one completely unbelievable creed. be a charity to send it.
Any chance of seeing Jo here?
That would be nice. Long letter would be nice too. V.

This is merely to say that L. will be at the harbour at 10 on Saturday, unless we hear to the contrary; L will bring you back here.

Also I left a sponge. (I think a small one)
Also could I have Edith's poems.

Thanks all for the moment

Will you lunch tomorrow, one?
Here is Jenny wanting a furniture shop in Tot. Ct Rd.
again! I loved you take us? Perhaps you would ring up. Anyhow, I'm in tomorrow afternoon, - D. do anything.

Friday.

Dearest, would you be a great angel and send me, on loan the Ladies of Langollen--if that is their name? I cant find any thing to do for Mrs Van Doren, and this might suit, and stingily I dont want to buy and dont want to use my Times subscription and much prefer to worryyou. That is my principle in life.
Such a visit from Eddy--all peeve and greive and now I'm sick and trembling beuase Nelly has is about to descended upon me in the flesh. Good lord, whyare these things so much worse than operations for cancer? And shall we meet some day?
